ARBITRATION

trenchrossi.com

STRATEGIC AND SOUND

Arbitration is a complicated process. You need a law firm which is knowledgeable both in arbitration and in the industry practice, as well as in the applicable law

Arbitration is a huge success in Brazil, with a growth rate higher than 20% per year in the last 5 years. Brazil is the third largest user of ICC, the most renowned arbitral institution worldwide. Arbitration is now the preferred method to resolve disputes related to major projects and joint ventures with foreign investors. Listed corporations shall insert arbitral clauses in their by-laws to be listed at "Novo Mercado", the highest segment in terms of corporate governance of the São Paulo Stock Exchange. Moreover, in view of reform of the Brazilian Arbitration Law, there are new incentives for using arbitration in contract involving state-owned entities.

Although it is less adversarial and more efficient than litigation, arbitration presents its own complexities, such as choice of seat, choice of rules and selection of qualified arbitrators. Strategy is key for success in arbitration.

At Trench Rossi Watanabe, we can help you identify potential areas of conflict before they arise and prepare a sound strategy when they do. We advise you every step of the way – from making sure your arbitration clause works to conducting the arbitration proceedings and assisting in the enforcement of arbitral awards.

Our lawyers are active in arbitral institutions and associations, have some of them served as arbitrators themselves. We can represent you in Brazil or anywhere in the world. We cooperate with international law firm Baker McKenzie, whose commercial arbitration group is deemed to be the best worldwide. We can provide you solutions and insights more effectively and efficiently than any other law firm.
